INTRODUCTION.

THE purpose of this CHARITY is to preserve friendless and deserted girls from those dangers and misfortunes to which their distressed situation exposes them.

Attempts to reclaim the vicious are, without doubt, laudable and deserving of encouragement; but to anticipate the evil, by implanting in tender minds the principles of religion and virtue, by cultivating in them habits of sobriety and industry, and thereby rendering them useful to the public, as well as happy to themselves, is certainly an act of the most exalted benevolence. It seems, also, a more practicable undertaking, inasmuch as prevention is less difficult than recovery.

That the evils this CHARITY aims at preventing are not chimerical, may be easily evinced.

Great is the number of persons in and about the Metropolis, not only of the lowest stations, but also in the most extreme indigence, whose children are frequently too numerous to receive maintenance, much less education, even from the strictest industry ; and when the lives of the parents are shortened by intemperance or accident, which is often the case, their children are left wholly destitute and helpless.

What, then, must become of the daughters of such parents, whose settlements are extremely difficult to be ascertained, especially the orphans of seamen and soldiers ? Poor and ignorant as they are, they must be encompassed with every temptation, and necessity may make them prostitutes, before their passions can have any share in their guilt.

A situation so truly pitiable, cannot but affect the heart with the warmest feelings of humanity.

And although the dangers and distresses to which such little female destitutes are liable, might be placed in various other lights equally affecting ; yet what has been already urged, it is hoped, will be sufficient to convince the judicious dicious of the utility of this design, and to engage the compassionate in a continuance of its support. It is unnecessary, therefore, to dwell any longer on a representation of the evil: The following are the steps which have been taken to prevent it.

IN consequence of a proposal from the late Sir JOHN FIELDING, for carrying into execution a plan for an ASYLUM for deserted orphan girls, a meeting of several noblemen and gentlemen who had approved thereof, was held on the 13th of May, 1758, when the house now occupied was hired for that purpose;

A N D

The following regulations and rules for the government of this CHARITY have been made by the guardians at their meetings, from time to time, and now continue in force.

QUALIFICATION of GUARDIANS

The qualification of an annual Guardian is a yearly subscription of three guineas or upwards.

The qualification of a perpetual Guardian is a subscription of thirty guineas or upwards.

Legacies bequeathed to the use of this CHARITY, to the following amount, when paid, entitle the acting executors to be perpetual Guardians : viz.

To the amount of 100l. the first named executor,

To the amount of 200l. the two first named executors,

To the amount of 300l. the three first named executors,

And so on in proportion to every 100l. bequeathed and executors appointed.

Ladies and gentlemen who have subscribed less than thirty guineas, by encreasing their last subscriptions to that sum, within the year, will be admitted as perpetual Guardians.

Ladies who are Guardians are entitled to vote at all elections of officers of the house by proxy, such proxy being a Guardian ; or by letter specifying the person whom they approve.

The

The Guardians being desirous that no means should be wanting to promote the laudable purposes of this Institution, and considering the Ladies as highly capable of assisting therein, have requested the favour of such as are Guardians, to visit and inspect into the œconomy of the house; to examine into the employment of the children, and all such things as relate to the training them up for useful housewifely servants, and to communicate to the Committee, by letter, such observations as may seem to them necessary.

GENERAL MEETINGS

A N D

COMMITTEES.

A President, six Vice-presidents, and a Treasurer are appointed, and Twenty of the Guardians, to form a Committee, to meet every Thursday at the ASYLUM, or oftener if necessary, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, to see to the execution of such rules and orders as may be made made at the general quarterly Meetings, which are to be held for auditing the accounts and other material business, on the second Thursday in January, on the first Thursday in April, (except the same should fall in Easter-week, and then on the Thursday following,) and on the first Thursdays in July and October; of which notice is to be given by public advertisement, and to the Committee by letter.

The Committee and Treasurer are to be named annually, at the General Court in April; and if any difference of opinion should arise, the election is to be determined by ballot.

The President, Vice-presidents, and Treasurer are of every Committee; and, notwithstanding particular gentlemen are annually named, for the immediate conduct of the CHARITY, yet every Guardian who pleases may attend and vote at Committees.

Two of the Guardians are appointed VISITORS monthly, by rotation, to inspect the regulation and general œconomy of the House, and to make such reports to the succeeding Committee in writing, as they or either of them shall think necessary,

REGU-

REGULATION OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

The President, a Vice-president, or the Treasurer, or in their absence one of the Guardians, shall take the Chair precisely at twelve o'clock, seven or more Members being present, and declare the Meeting to be general.

The minutes of the last Quarterly Court, as well as of subsequent General Meetings and Committees shall be first read; and, after a short pause, if desired, shall be read a second time, when such parts as are not objected to shall stand confirmed.

The minutes being gone through, new matter relative to such General Meetings may be proposed and discussed.

Every motion upon new matter shall be delivered in writing to the Chairman, if desired.

No question shall be put on any motion, unless the same be seconded.

No new motion shall be received after two o'clock without special leave of the Meeting; and the Meeting shall be adjourned at three o'clock, or sooner.

When a Member speaks, he shall stand up and address himself to the Chair, and the rest shall remain silent.

When two or more offer to speak together, the Chairman shall determine who shall speak first.

When any matter is in debate, if a Member speaks to new business, the Chairman shall call to order.

If any motion be made contrary to any rule or order then existing, the Secretary or any Guardian may remind the Chairman that such motion is contrary to order.

In all Meetings the Chairman shall vote only where the suffrages are equal.

REGULATIONS and POWERS

COMMITTEES.

The Committee shall every Thursday meet at the ASYLUM, at eleven o'clock precisely; and five or more Members being present, the Chair shall be then taken, in order to proceed to business.

The minutes of the preceding Committee shall be first read, and no parts of such minutes shall be considered till the whole has been read through. They shall then be read a second time, if desired, and no new matter be proposed till they have been discussed article by article; and, after a short pause between each, those parts which are not objected to shall stand confirmed.

The minutes being gone through, the report of the monthly visitors shall be next taken into consideration, after which new matter may be proposed and considered.

A sample of the bread and beer, butter and cheese used in the House, shall be produced to every Committee, if desired.

On

On the day of each Quarterly Meeting the Committee shall be summoned at eleven o'clock precisely, when the Chair shall be taken, in order to close the quarter's accounts, and to prepare their report to lay before the said Meeting.

No new motion respecting any material regulation or alteration of the general plan of the CHARITY shall be received otherwise than by entering the same on the minutes, and postponing the farther consideration thereof to the next Committee or General Court.

Committees may adjourn themselves, as they shall see convenient.

In case any matter arises before the Committee which they may think necessary to have discussed and carried into execution before the next Quarterly Meeting, the Committee are empowered to call a special General Meeting for that purpose, giving a week's notice by public advertisement.

The rules used at the General Meetings, respecting motions, questions, and debates, are observed in the Committees.

No Guardian who serves this CHARITY with any kind of Goods, may be elected on the General Committee.

GENE.

GENERAL RULES

AND

ORDERS,

That no officer of the House receive orders from any person whatever but the General Court, Committee, or Chaplain, except such as may be given by the gentlemen of the Faculty, relative to sick children.

That if any thing should occur which may require the immediate consideration of the Guardians, a Committee shall be summoned by the Secretary, or any two of the Guardians, either by letter or special message.

That no servants be admitted into the House.

That no girl apprenticed from this House be permitted to visit the children or servants.

That the House be open to all visitors of decent appearance, whether subscribers or others, from nine to seven in the Summer, and from ten to four in the Winter, Sundays excepted.

That

That the subscription-book and book of the children's work be opened for the inspection of such gentlemen and ladies as choose to examine the same, and that the officers of the House do also give them such general information respecting the CHARITY as they may require.

That the officers of the House take care that no strong liquors or money be given to the children; and that they do not presume to take any money themselves, on pain of dismissal, which will likewise be incurred by breach of any other order; but if any money be given into their hands, that they put it into the charity-box in the presence of the donor.*

That the charity-boxes in the House and Chapel be opened by the Committee, previous to every Quarterly Meeting.

That the qualifications to be acquired by the children before they are apprenticed, be hung up in their several apartments, to excite their emulation; together with proper prayers for morning and evening; and that the duties of the officers of the House be also hung up in their respective apartments.

That

* Boxes are fixed in the House and Chapel for that purpose.

That all legacies be paid into the hands of such Banker or Bankers as the Treasurer and Committee for the time being shall direct, and laid out in the Stocks, in the names of Trustees, for the benefit of the CHARITY.

That the Treasurer deliver to every Committee an account of the balance in his hands.

That the minutes of every General Court, and Meeting of the Committees, be signed in the book by the Chairman for the time being, and be kept by the Secretary.

That all indentures shall be paid for by the person to whom any orphan shall be apprenticed.

That no person receiving salary or wages from this CHARITY shall vote at any Court, Committee, Board, or Meeting thereof, in any matter wherein he is interested.

That no person having been discharged from the service of this CHARITY for misbehaviour, be ever capable of being reinstated.

That all new rules and orders which shall be made after this publication, shall be correctly copied from the Minutes by the Secretary, and hung up in the Committee-room, for the information of the Guardians and others, till they can be subsequently printed.

That no standing rule or order of this CHARITY shall be dispensed with but at a General Court,

DESCRIP;

DESCRIPTION of CHILDREN,
AND
RULES for ADMISSION.

The objects are orphan girls, bereft of both their parents, from the age of nine to twelve years, whose settlements cannot be found.

No child to be admitted but by order of a Quarterly or of a Special General Court, to be summoned by advertisement for that purpose, after having been approved by the Committee.

No child can be admitted (even by order of a General Court) who has a mother living, unless the mother is proved to be insane, or beyond the seas.

No child that has been dropt in any parish is capable of being admitted, unless both her parents are proved to be dead, her age ascertained, and her case in other respects found to come within the rules of the CHARITY.

No negro or mulatto girl to be admitted.

The death of the parents of the children applying for admission is indispensably necessary to be proved either by parish registers, or by the oath of some credible witness, except as above.

A copy of the register of the death of such parents, and the baptism of the children is to be produced to the Committee, if possible.

As the children are to be constantly employed in the several offices of good housewifery, in order to qualify themselves for domestic servants, no diseased or infirm child can be received; to prevent which the physician, surgeons, and apothecary are to be summoned by the Secretary, to attend at the time of admission.

Every child is to be examined by the surgeons and matron, who are to sign certificates that she is a proper object to be admitted.

All applications for admission are to be registered by the Secretary, and entered, according to seniority, in a book for that purpose.—Enquiry is then to be made into the truth of the representation of the respective cases by the collector. If such enquiry prove satisfactory, lists of the Guardians in turn to present are to be delivered to the person applying, and a report port of the registers is to be made to each succeeding Committee.

The Guardians are to present according to the seniority of their subscriptions; but no annual Guardian is to have a right to present till after the payment of a second subscription of three guineas or upwards; and unless the subscription be regularly kept up, or the arrears paid, the Guardian loses the right of presentation.

The number of vacancies in the House from time to time, together with the names of the Guardians in turn to present, is to be constantly hung up in the Committee-room; and no name of a Guardian is to be given to any person, except those in turn to present, who alone are to have the forms of presentation delivered to them.

The Guardians in turn to present are to have notice thereof by letter from the Secretary, and are also to be informed how many objects have been examined, are in want of presentations, and recommended as proper by the Committee.

The children presented are to be produced before the Committee, and to bring a certificate in the form following, or give other satisfactory proofs where such certificate cannot be had.

C E R T I F I C A T E.

To the President, Vice-President, and Guardians of the Asylum.

WE, whose names are hereunto subscribed, do certify that A. B. the bearer, being, as we believe, between the age of nine and twelve years, has no known settlement; that she resides in our parish, and appears to be in a very distressed condition, having neither father or mother living, or friends to support her; and therefore recommend her as a proper object of your protection.

The children are new clothed annually at Easter, and have change of linen twice a week, Sunday and Wednesday.

R U L E S

F O R

P L A C I N G O U T T H E C H I L D R E N .

The children are to be bound apprentices for seven years, at the age of fifteen, or sooner, as domestic servants in reputable families residing in Great Britain.

No girl shall be apprenticed until the character of the master or mistress applying for the same shall have been enquired into and approved of by the Committee.

Every person applying for an apprentice must appear at the Committee to give the necessary information respecting their situation, &c. unless such appearance be dispensed with by the Committee.

When

When any girl shall become qualified to be apprenticed, the Guardian who presented her shall be acquainted therewith, in order to know whether such Guardian has any place in view for her.

The Guardians desirous of encouraging the children to serve their apprenticeship faithfully, have empowered the Committee to grant to any orphan apprenticed from this CHARITY, who shall produce to the Committee a certificate signed by her master or mistress, or both, if living, of her good behaviour during her apprenticeship, a sum not exceeding five pounds, such orphan having first returned public thanks in the Chapel for the protection of this CHARITY.

The Committee are empowered to put out, at any time, to any trade they shall think proper, such orphans as may have contracted any disease or infirmity which may render them incapable of domestic service, with a premium not exceeding ten pounds.

T R E A-

T R E A S U R E R.

A Treasurer is appointed at the General Meeting in April, who is to continue for one year, and no longer.

C H A P L A I N.

A Chaplain is appointed to read prayers and preach a sermon twice every Sunday throughout the year; viz. at a quarter past eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and at a quarter past six in the afternoon, and on the first Sunday evening in every month to catechise the children; to read prayers to the whole family every morning, to superintend the conduct of the family, and to promote by every means in his power the benefit of the CHARITY.

A Secretary is appointed, who is to attend all Meetings of the Guardians, to take down the Minutes, and produce them fairly entered into the Minute books at the ensuing Meeting; to take under his care all books, papers, and accounts, to summon Committees by letter; to receive any contributions or subscriptions for the Treasurer, and enter them into the Minute-books at the next Meeting; to report all material observations made by the subscribers; and to make the necessary enquiries into the circumstances of such objects as shall be presented for admission into this CHARITY.

N.B. The Rev. Mr. DUCHÉ having been appointed Chaplain and Secretary, apartments are allotted in the House for himself and family, in order that the children may have the more immediate benefit of his instruction and example; that he may see the regulations of the Guardians duly attended to; that such ladies and gentlemen as shall at any time visit this CHARITY may be induced by a proper reception and representation to become contributors thereto,

C O L-

COLLECTOR.

A Collector is appointed, to receive subscriptions and contributions, and pay the same into the hands of the Treasurer for the time being, and to make the necessary enquiries into the circumstances of such objects as shall be presented for admission into this CHARITY.

WRITING-MASTER.

A Writing-master is appointed, to attend twice a week to teach forty girls to write and cast up a sum in addition.

ORGANIST.

O R G A N I S T.

An Organist is appointed, who is to attend the Chapel in person during Divine Service on Sundays, and on such other particular days as may be required; and is also to instruct the children twice a week in psalmody.

M A T R O N.

A Matron is appointed, to superintend the other servants of the House; to keep an account of the current expences, and of every thing that is received or delivered at the House, including the materials brought in for the children's work, and discharge thereof, in order the better to adjust and rectify any mistake that may happen in the Schoolmistress's account; to receive and take care of the provisions; to set down in a book the particulars,
D with with the weight and quantity, in order to check the tradesmen's bills, which are to be collected the last Monday in every month, for that purpose, and to deliver her accounts weekly to the Secretary, to be laid before the Committee; to take care that the children have their meals at the stated hours, and in proper quantities, according to the regulations of the General Board; to superintend the cook and such children as are appointed to the household business, and to instruct, and direct them therein; to see that the House and furniture are kept clean, the children's apparel taken care of, the beds regularly made, and the linen properly got up; to see that the girls appointed to the household duty do not rise earlier than the others, except on washing days, and that they go to bed at the same time with them, and be not put to any part of the labour of washing, ironing, or other business, but what may appear suitable to their age and strength; to see that each of the beds have clean sheets at the end of every fourth week, in the following manner; one fourth part of the beds alternatively every week, which are numbered for that purpose, so that the quantity of linen in the weekly wash may not

not be greater at one time than another, which washing is to be every Monday; to assist with the school-mistresses and some of the eldest girls in combing all the children's heads every morning before they go to school, and in washing their feet or seeing it done every Friday evening; to see that the children are kept constantly clean in every respect, and always to attend Divine Service with them; to take care of the keys, doors, and fastenings of the House, and at no time to suffer the children to go beyond the bounds prescribed them without leave of the Committee; to see all the fires and candles extinguished, and to visit the children's rooms immediately before she goes to bed; to treat them with tenderness and humanity, and from time to time to report their behaviour to the Committee. She is strictly to examine into the children's health at least twice a week; and when any of them are sick they are to be removed to the Infirmary, (which is at a distance from the other apartments,) and placed under the care of the nurse, who constantly resides there, and to give notice to the Gentlemen of the Faculty to attend them; to deliver in writing to the Secretary, previous to every Committee, the names of any children who have died in the course of the last month, and the number of those in the House, particularizing such as are sick; to examine carefully every child respecting her health, previous to her being presented to any Court or Committee for admission; to wait upon visitors, who are first to be received in the parlour, and not to permit any person to view the apartments without her; lastly, she is to see to all the domestic business in general, and at no time to lay out of the House, or absent herself therefrom, without leave of the Committee.

SCHOOL - MISTRESSES.

A School-mistress and two assistants are appointed, who are to see that the children are properly employed during the school hours, and to be careful that they attend to their work and reading, and behave with diligence and good order; to assist the Matron in combing their heads every morning, and washing th ir feet every Friday evening, or seeing it done. The head mistress is to keep an account of all work brought in and sent out, and of the monies received for the same, and to deliver such account weekly to the Secretary, to be laid before the Committee. They are to set down all the work which the children shall be employed in for themselves, and to see that they mend their own cloaths and keep themselves clean; they are to be present at Divine Service with them every Sunday, and in order to render that duty the more instructive and beneficial, they are to see that they look out the proper psalms, lessons, epistle and gospel for the day, and that they are attentive to their books whilst the Minister is reading, and behave with decency. They are to take care that the children say their prayers night and morning. They are to attend the children at their meals, to see that grace is said before and after, and that proper decorum be observed. They are to treat them at all times with tenderness and humanity, and at no time to lay out of the House, or absent themselves therefrom, without leave of the Committee.

C O O K.

A Cook is appointed, to dress the provisions, and to take care that they are ready and placed on the table at the stated hours; to assist in washing and getting up the linen; to instruct the children in cleaning the kitchen and furniture, and in such cookery as shall occur in the House, so that they may acquire the necessary qualifications of servants for private families. She is, after having secured the doors, and taken care of the fires, to attend evening service, and is not at any time to keep the children from chapel, under pretence of assisting her.

HOUSE.

H O U S E - M A I D S.

Two House-maids are appointed, to wash and get up the linen, to clean the House, Chapel, and furniture, and to instruct such children therein as the Matron shall place under them for that purpose.

N U R S E

A N D

I N F I R M A R Y.

Apartments detached from the House are appointed for an Infirmary, where a nurse constantly resides, who is to attend and take care of such of the children as the Matron shall place there. She is to treat them with tenderness and humanity, to report to the Matron any assistance that may be required from the Faculty, and not to suffer any of the other children to visit or be in the Infirmary on any pretence whatsoever.

GARDENER.

G A R D E N E R.

A Gardener is appointed to take care of the garden, and to supply the House with a proper quantity of common vegetables, to acquaint the Matron from time to time of the sorts ready for use, and to deliver such proportions as she shall direct,

M E S S E N G E R.

A Messenger is appointed, to go of errands, by order of the Secretary and Matron; to fetch in and carry out such work as the head Schoolmistress directs, pay her such money as he shall receive, and see it entered in her book (when paid) for his discharge; to attend all Meetings of the Guardians, and likewise at the Chapel during Divine Service, to prevent the admission of improper persons.

Abstract... Asylum... for... Orphan Girls

National Library of Medicine

Bethesda, Maryland

CONDITION PRIOR TO TREATMENT

The paper covers were loose or missing on all volumes. Three volumes had marble paper covers. The Abstract had a blue paper cover. The sewing was partially intact on two of the five volumes. The laid paper text was stiff, and heavily soiled. There were graphite notations in the text.

TREATMENT

The edges of the text blocks and heavily soiled leaves were surface cleaned with grated and solid vinyl erasers. The text blocks were disbound. The text was washed in a bath of deionized water and deacidified in an aqueous solution of magnesium bicarbonate. The pH of the paper after treatment was 7.1 - 7.5. The leaves were repaired with Japanese paper and wheat starch paste. The repaired leaves were humidified and flattened. The book was re sewn by hand with unbleached Irish linen thread with the addition of new end leaves of handmade paper. The original marble covers for volumes 1782, 1786, 1793, were relined with Japanese paper and wheat starch paste toned with watercolor. The books were recovered in non-adhesive paper covers that were reinforced with acid-free buffered board. A loose leaf found in the 1782 volume was ~~encapsulated in polyester film and returned with the volume.~~
